- Getting daily coverage
- Unveiling conflicts
- Identifying sector trends
- Examining Competitors

Know who's joining forces, know what it means.

Last year, more than $35 billion of merger and acquisition activity in the defense, aerospace, and government technology markets and one service, DACIS, saw that it was covered. Mergers and acquisitions happen to consolidate capabilities, serve new demands, and secure new contracts. Each one can be either a good thing for your company, or a competitive threat.
