One Semi-Automated Forces (OneSAF) Solicitation

Agency: DEPT OF DEFENSE
Office/Location: DEPT OF THE ARMY / AMC

SYNOPSIS | ALL ATTACHMENTS | INDUSTRY DAY | RANKINGS

The U.S. Army Program Executive Office for Simulation, Training, and Instrumentation (PEO STRI), Project Manager, Synthetic Environment (PM SE), Product Manager, Constructive Simulation Support (PdM CSS) has a requirement for the One Semi-Automated Forces (OneSAF) program for development, test, integration, interoperability, support, and delivery of software, data, and documentation products to the Assistant Program Manager OneSAF (APM OneSAF); the U.S. Army Modeling and Simulation (M&S) Communities (Acquisition, Analysis, Experimentation, Intelligence, Test and Evaluation, and Training); and the rest of the OneSAF User Community. The OneSAF User Community includes, without limitation, other U.S. Army Program Executive Offices (PEOs) and Program Managers (PMs), Training and Doctrine Command (TRADOC) Battle Labs, Research Development and Engineering Centers (RDECs) and agencies, other Department of Defense Services and Joint agencies, Government civilian organizations and agencies, academic institutions, foreign countries, and other OneSAF Co-Developers. OneSAF supports modeling and simulation of force modernization and transformation from weapons systems to Brigade and below level combat. OneSAF supports the Army goal of cloud and web-based software application development in order to reduce hardware and support costs and to enable rapid training at both home station and distributed locations. The applicable NAICS Code for this acquisition is 541512, Computer Systems Design Services, with a Small Business Size Standard of $34M.
